

Region 6 Awards and Recognition Program 2006 Outstanding Corporate Engineering Community Service Award

Purpose:

The IEEE Region 6 Area Outstanding Corporate Engineering Community Service Award, specifically recognizes support provided by a company to the Institute, and its members, in attaining its goals. The award is presented to companies who encourage and support IEEE membership and volunteer activities. In particular, the atmosphere created by the company should facilitate the IEEE volunteer(s) to fulfill their responsibilities as an IEEE volunteer.

Examples of support worthy of award recognition include: Underwriting all or a portion of IEEE annual membership dues for employees; Providing time-off for travel to IEEE meetings and providing full or partial reimbursement for associated expenses; Offering company space to conduct IEEE meetings; Sponsoring or patronizing (contributing funds) IEEE professional or technical conferences or meetings.
