

Call for Region-10 Website Contest 2007

The Region-10 Website Contest is a great opportunity for Student Branches in Asia Pacific to interact and learn from one another.

Motivation behind this Website Competition:

- Electronic communications among IEEE members has been one of the IEEE main concerns during the recent times.
- It is very important for the IEEE student branches to communicate with their student members and other branches in an electronic way.
- Having a Student Branch Website is a good tool to achieve this goal.

IEEE R10 Website Contest (Rules and Guidelines):

- The judging criteria are linked at the IEEE Website - (<http://www.ieee.org/membership/students/programs/websitecontest.html>).
- The 1st Prize winner will automatically stand a chance for the 2007 IEEE Student Branch Web Site Contest organized by the IEEE Regional Activities Board (RAB).

Because...

- At stage 1, each region holds its own regional Website contest.
(This stage is the Region-10 Website Contest.)
- At stage 2, all regions including Region-10 submit the top entry to the 2007 IEEE Student Branch Web Site Contest.

The Region-10 Website Contest is once again open for submission.

- The deadline is brought forward to 10th March 2007.
- Please submit "Request for Participation Form" from interested student branch by 15th February 2007. ("Request for Participation Form" is attached below)

R10 Website Contest Winning Categories includes:

- 1st Prize: US$500 + Certificate + Auto Qualify for Inter-regional Website contest
- 2nd Prize: US$350 + Certificate
- 3rd Prize: US$200 + Certificate
- Best New Comer Award: Certificate
- Merit Award (top 20% but subject to change depending on participation) : Certificate

*Monetary award for this contest comes from the Region-10 budget and not from IEEE HQ.

Details of the Region-10 Website Contest will be uploaded to the R10 SAC Website (<http://www.cairo.utm.my/r10students/>) soon.

Sincerely yours.
