Abstract

Rachel will briefly introduce Nature and Nature physical sciences research journals, and talk you through the manuscript preparation and submission processes, as well as the overview of the editorial process and the peer-review system of Nature journals. An introduction to Nature Photonics will also be given. At the end of the talk, you will get to know what editors generally seek for, how to write a good cover letter and manuscript, what happens to your manuscript after submission, how to review a manuscript and how to make an appeal.

Biography of Speaker

Before joining Nature Photonics, Rachel worked for Aston University's Business Partnership Unit in Birmingham, UK, as a research commercialization officer commercializing research output of the university, particularly that of photonics research. She obtained her PhD in microwave photonics and nonlinear optics as a member of Aston's Photonics Research Group. Prior to that, she worked for Philips Optical Storage in Singapore as an Optics Engineer. She holds a Master's degree from Nanyang Technological University of Singapore doing research in optical fibre sensing and a Bachelor's degree from the National University of Malaysia.
